'Guj team failed to find gaps in Delhi model'

Sisodia Claims Delegation Returned 'Empty Handed'; BJP Asks Why Conducted Tours Only

TIMES NEWS NETWORK
New Delhi: A day after a delegation of BJP functionaries from Gujarat completed its intended visit to state-run schools and health facilities, deputy chief minister Manish Sisodia claimed that they failed to find any shortfalls in the 'Kojitwahal model of governance'.
Addressing a press conference, Sisodia said the Gujarat BJP's plan of "exporting" the Delhi model fell flat despite covering the length and breadth of the city for two da-

SISODIA SAYS
All political parties and governments should always be open to learning from others for the greater good of the society

"The delegation was forced to return empty handed. He added that a delegation of AAP functionaries would have visited and exposed the pitiable condition of schools and hospitals in Gujarat.
A Delhi BJP spokesperson, however, said his party never said a word on the objective of the delegation's visit, but AAP had been unnecessarily starting for three days that the tour was intended to find faults in Delhi's education and health models.
AAP is a serious contender in the Gujarat assembly elections slated to be held in December. The Kojitwahal party has been portraying the 'Delhi model of governance' and its work, primarily in education and health sectors, as the gold plank.

Sisodia accused BJP of sending its party functionaries to "fabricate and spread lies" about the Kojitwahal model in Gujarat to put ahead the anger brewing against its ministers in the state.
"Because of CM Anand Kejriwal's 'revolutionary' work, education and healthcare have become a part of India's political discourse. BJP leaders failed to find a single flaw in our schools and hospitals even after two days of their tour. To fulfil their master's task, they were forced to conduct a photo op in front of a clinic, which was shut down by National Green Tribunal," Sisodia said.

The deputy CM added that his party functionaries were keen on showing the BJP members around and the work done in the education and health sectors, but the delegation didn't connect them.

"All political parties and governments should always be open to learning from others for the greater good of the society. We host leaders across party lines in our state so that we can enlighten them with our journey of transformation and progress," said Sisodia.
Delhi BJP spokesperson Praveen Shankar Kapoor said his party failed to understand the anxiety and frustration of AAP functionaries over the visit of a Gujarat BJP delegation to Delhi. "AAP members repeatedly offered the Gujarat delegation to show them good schools and mohalla clinics. If all AAP government's schools, mohalla clinics and hospitals are in good shape, why were they worried and offered conducted tours to select locations?" he asked.

Delhi govt to provide skill training to Tihar inmates

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: To help Tihar jail inmates reintegrate themselves into the society after completion of their term, the Delhi government will provide them skill training and educational support.
After a meeting with DG (Prison) Sandeep Koyal on Thursday, deputy chief minister Manish Sisodia said, "Our government believes that the right education is the only way to set the right mind-set among people and help them lead a better and meaningful life. There are nearly 20,000 inmates in Tihar Jail."

Teachers of Delhi government schools will talk to the inmates to understand their educational background and skill requirements before programmes are designed.
"The study will also help the government understand the gaps in the education system, due to which crimes are still happening," added Sisodia.
